Whitney Houston;s daughter resuscitated after being found in bathtub

-, 31.01.2015, 22:06 Time

USPA News - Bobbi Kristina Brown, the daughter of the late singer Whitney Houston, was resuscitated Saturday after she was found unresponsive in a bathtub at her Atlanta-area home, police said, just weeks before the third anniversary of Houston's death. "Her husband and a friend located her in a bathtub this morning and she was unresponsive. He started CPR and a police officer took over life-saving measures until an ambulance arrived," the Roswell Police Department said in a statement, providing no further details about the circumstances of the incident.

Roswell police spokeswoman Lisa Holland said that Brown, 21, was "still alive" just before 2:30 p.m. local time, but was unable to provide more information about her condition. "I cannot comment on conditions because of health laws - but I can tell you she is alive," the spokeswoman said. The incident comes just weeks before the third death anniversary of her mother, Grammy Award-winning singer and actress Whitney Houston, who was one of the world's best-selling artists. Houston died on February 11, 2012, after she was found submerged in the bathtub of her Beverly Hills hotel room and pronounced dead.
